JACKIE WITH BLOODY NOSE REFUSED SEAT

Policeman Declares He Will Demand Suit for Discrimination Against Uniform.

A request to the District attorney for the prosecution of Kell's Theater on a charge of discrimination against the uniform of the United States is threatened as the result of the action of Manager Robbins, of that theater, last night in refusing admission to William L. Van Camp, a blue jacket on the U. S. V. point, and now under treatment at the Naval Hospital in this city.

Manager Robbins denies his act constituted discrimination, declaring he had between six and eight enlisted men of the army and navy in the theater last night. Van Camp was refused admission because of his appearance, according to Robbins, who declares that the man did not have his neck yoke in to hide the upper part of his undershirt, that his general appearance was unkempt, and that there were smears of blood around his nose. The blood, it was explained, afterward accounted for on the ground of a minor operation undergone earlier in the day. Robbins declares he permitted Van Camp's two companions, both in uniform, to enter and that the latter afterwards came out and refused to remain.

Policeman Reagan, appealed to by Robbins to induce the men to receive their money back, declares that Robbins charged one of them with being under the influence of liquor. Mr. Robbins says he did not make the charge, and does not believe Van Camp was objectionable on that score. Reagan declares that Van Camp was not unkempt in appearance or objectionable in any way. Reagan declares he will take the case to District Attorney Lasker.

Investigation disclosed the presence in the theater of a number of uniformed enlisted men at last night's performance.

WILLS USE OF BATHTUB.

Servant May Take Luncheon in Family Tub.

Gloversville, N. Y., Nov. 21.—The will of Rev. Washington Frothingham, known as "the hermit of New York," just filed in Fonda, makes about 100 bequests of from $10 to $5,000, nearly all of which are unique.

On condition that no prayers or songs not taken from the Bible be sung in the church Sunday and that no flowers or plants be placed in the church, Mr. Frothingham left $150 to the First Presbyterian Church at Tribes Hill.

Mary Mack, a domestic, is bequeathed the right to live in any of the quarters as long as she can agree with the widow, the use of the kitchen furniture, the right to go out the front or back door, the use of twenty-five feet of garden, the right to have company and the right to take a bath in the family bathtub whenever she likes.
